

The Chain

This game links players through common bonds. It also invites all team members to participate during a meeting. This can be used virtually or in person. The chain can also be linked to a specific meeting topic where team members are invited to link and build on each other's ideas.

HOW TO USE THE CHAIN

- The first person makes a statement.
- Another person that relates to the statement becomes the next 'link' in the chain.
- For example, if the speaker says, "I have climbed a mountain," then the next link in the chain must be another participant who has scaled a mountain.
- The game continues until all players are part of the chain.