

Common Bonds

Common Bonds is one of the simplest connection games for teams. It allows team members to get to know each other at a deeper level. In doing so, it creates a transparent, safe space for different opinions.

HOW TO USE COMMON BONDS

- To play this game, send groups into breakouts for three to five minutes. This could also be an assignment given at the end of a meeting where the team is then asked to report back the following week.
- Each team must find one trait that all room attendees have in common.
- When groups return to the main room, teams take turns sharing their common bonds.
- If time allows, then you can play multiple rounds by randomizing the breakout rooms to reconfigure the teams.
- This is an introvert friendly activity owing to the small groups and/or time to prepare.
